

March 14, 2019

To Whom It May Concern:

Our company has a long history with Prodigy Construction. I have personally been using them for five years. Conservatively they have done 10 – 15 projects over that timeframe. From ground up construction to remodels they have become one of my “go to” vendors. On larger, more expensive, projects we usually get at least two or three bids and Prodigy is typically very competitive or outright lower than their competition.

The team is professional and easy to work with. The project managers, supervisors and on staff architect(s) all know our standard fit and finish. That familiarity is one less element I need to deal with or communicate to other potential general contractors again and again. I currently have 4 or 5 projects in the pipeline with them.

Prodigy is a great business partner and I do not hesitate to recommend them for your next project – big or small.

Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Steve Holt', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Steve Holt

Group Manager

Property Development & Facilities