

Prodigy Construction Recommendation

Louisville Overstock Warehouse - Dixie Highway Location

To whom it may concern,

Prodigy Construction came highly recommended to us and we are happy to say that we can now highly recommend them to others.

In particular, these are the most important points of recommendation:

Prodigy Construction was responsive and attentive throughout the entire job. Whether it was a change order or just keeping the pace on the build or answering a few simple questions, our project lead, Josh, was always just a phone call away and always answered. From what we have experienced, that type of attentiveness is rare.

Prodigy Construction brought great clarity and communication to the project. They helped establish the scope of the work. When new obstacles were discovered in the project (whether inside or outside of the scope of work), we always felt comfortable with the clarity that was provided. No detail was left unattended.

Prodigy Construction provided the highest level of professionalism combined with a winsome approach to getting the work done. Because of Prodigy Construction, we actually enjoyed the build process and looked forward to each new stage.

We can confidently recommend Prodigy Construction to design, build and lead even the most difficult projects.
